BUTLER'S SPELLERS AND READERS. BB" In RUTLER'S AMERICAN SPELLING-BOOK are many new and valuable features. The system is rely phonetic; the classification of words is logical, the advancement of the pupil is gradual; every neeple is thoroughly laid down and explained. In the latter part of the work, names of things beging to the same order are grouped together. This part of the book is beautifully illustrated.

Butten's Frant Book is Spring and Exabino is introductory to the New School Readers and Butter's Goodrich Readers. It may be used for teaching by the common method, the phonetic method, BULLE'S NEW SCHOOL READERS are superior to any readers now published. We invite compasion between them and all others. We do not heatate to pronounce them at once the best and the cleapest. They are the Butler's Goodrich First, Second, and Third Readers remodeled and enlarged and are progressive with the higher numbers of that series.

THE GOUDGICH SERIES and NEW SCHOOL READERS, by NOBLE BUTLER, have attained a very large collision in the South and West. This is the only complete series free from a sectional haz and at BONNELL'S ENGLISH COMPOSITION.

The Manual of Composition is known and approved throughout the country. No work competes with st. It treats of Composition alone, and unlike all other candidates for popular favor is not a manel treatize on grammar and composition. Its itsais of grammatical reference is Buttan's Palettical Grammar. Bonnell's Composition has been recommended by the State Boards of California and Georgia. TOWNE'S SERIES OF MATHEMATICS.

The characteristic features of these books are: Gear and exhaustive definitions. Improved operations in solving problems. Clear and brief Analyses. 2. Early introduction of DECIMAL FRACTIONS.
4. Models for Recitations.
6. The beautiful typography of the whole serie The Asstructures are rapidly growing in favor, and commend themselves to all "live teachers" wish to avail themselves of the newest and best methods of instruction in this department of

The Aratana continues so "win golden opinions" from the best teachers. It is pronounced by our most distinguished mathematicians to be exhaustive of the subject, while the simplicity of its discussions and the scientific arrangement of the problems make it more easily understood by the pupil than is the case with most elementary works. We invite the attention of Teachers also to the following: Butler's Common-School Speaker.

Nelson's Book-Keeping. Bronson's Elecution. Barbee's Geology. &c., &c., &c., ALL OUR SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS are carefully prepared by practical and experie schers. Their continued and increasing popularity is the best evidence of their merit.

Our school-books are electrotyped, printed, and bound in Louisville. They are the works of southern authors. Our house (established in 1825) is the onty Publishing House south of the Ohio engagest in the publication of school-books. These facts should incline teachers of the South and West to examine our books before coming to a conclusion. We favite a careful comparison with others, feeling satisfied that our publications will more fully meet the wants of our people than those of any other house. enough of its teachings and pracenough of its teachings and practices to say that a better selection
